

Traffic Info: USA Cycling Pro Road National Championship

The City of Charleston is preparing to welcome the USA Cycling Pro Road National Championships. To help community members, businesses, and those traveling to and from Charleston navigate daily commutes, race routes, and access to and from various events and places – including voting precincts – the City has prepared a robust day-by-day list – including access to and from interstates/US routes, race route turn by turns, road closures, parking information, and other helpful information – from Sunday, May 12 to Sunday, May 19.

The information included below is meant to serve as a guide and may be subject to change. Times are approximations based on race start times and the time needed to prepare for the race. For more information about the USA Cycling Pro Road Nationals, visit <https://charlestonwv.com/usa-cycling/>.
